Dedication

If a person were a rose . . .

*Its roots, in knowledge and experience,
would nourish vitality's stem
and loyalty's thorns*

Its compassionate leaves stretch outward, embracing life.

The mature bloom and wise petals offer a strong scent of love.

*If a person were a rose
the colour would be deep blue, Essence of serenity and sensitivity.*

If this perfect rose were a person the quintessence would be

"We are living in a time of transition.

Old traditions die hard and we cannot predict how new ones will develop over generations

We can divest ourselves of stereotype beliefs about differences between men and women. But, we cannot know what special gifts women — — and men — may have until a lifestyle is developed in which all people

... can function as full human beings, sharing responsibility for each other in as yet unforeseen ways."

Margaret Mead

As we share together the Westbrook experience, we begin to cultivate and . . .

... appreciate our own evolving lifestyle.

While journeying through our own individual lives . . .

. . . we encounter challenges which allow for the creation of a better versed human being . . .

... better equipped to share responsibility for one another.

GUIDES, PHILOSOPHERS, AND FRIENDS

Instruction . . . is like the culture of the productions of the earth. For our natural disposition is, as it were, the soil; the tenets of our teacher are, as it were, the seed; instruction in youth is like the planting of the seed in the ground at the proper season; the place where the instruction is communicated is like the food imparted to vegetables by the atmosphere; diligent study is like the cultivation of the fields; and it is time which imparts strength to all things and brings them to maturity.

All treasures seem faded beside the the sea's emerald majesty . . . and when all that encumbers us is cast into the sea, we receive a greater treasure . . . peace of mind.

Jan "Chaps" Czaplicki

"The bird with the thorn in its breast, it follows an immutable law; it is driven by it knows not what to impale itself, and die singing. At the very instant the thorn enters there is no awareness in it of the dying to come; it simply sings and sings until there is not the life left to utter another note. But we, when we put the thorns in our breasts, we know. We understand. And still we do it. Still we do it."

Thank God for my friends.

Hersey Sigma Chi.

Paulette Marie Fournier

"I still find each day too short for all the thoughts I want to think, all the walks I want to take, all the books I want to read, and all the friends I want to see."

And as time ebbs away curling moments into the fluid treasury of the sea . . . we begin to give up our invisible burdens of confusion . . . boredom . . . despair . . . clearing a place within us into which the ocean's peace and tranquility can flow.

Love and thanks to Hersey Sigma Chi, Paula and all of my friends.

Paula J. Siviski

And in chasin' what I thought were moonbeams I have run into a couple of walls . . . But in looking back at the faces I've been I would sure be the first one to say When I look at myself today Wouldn'ta done it any other way.

*This life is yours
Take the power to choose what you want to do and do it well
Take the power to love what you want in life
and love it honestly
Take the power
to walk in the forest and be a part of nature
Take the power
to control your own life
No one else can do it for you
Take the power
to make your life happy*

— Susan Polis Schutz

Special thanks to Jackie Oliveri, Linda Kozikowski, Vic Holan — Taylor Publishing Co. Representative and George Paolini for all their help and encouragement in making this book possible.

*When you are old and gray and full of sleep, and nodding by the fire, take down this book,
and slowly read, and dream . . .*

— William Butler Yeats
